Welcome to the launching of the CALCOG Leadership Institute. The Institute was created to provide new city and county elected officials who are appointed to serve as delegates to CALCOG's governing board and staff new to regional governance an orientation to how planning at the regional level occurs.

Long-time elected officials and staff are also welcome to attend Institute events as a way to expand their knowledge base and stay up-to-date on the latest developments in regionalism.

The Institute will attempt to explain how regional agencies (councils of governments, metropolitan planning organizations, and regional transportation planning agencies) function, describe their regional variances and differences with one another, and how the SB 375 requirements and related regional housing (i.e., Regional Housing Needs Assessment, or RHNA) and transportation planning laws are intended to work under both state and federal law.
